

Mobility Experience at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb

Name: Denys Sadovsky

Place of Birth: Sevastopol, Ukraine

Home University: University of Wrocław, Poland

Study Programme: MA in Slavic Studies

Duration of Stay: September 2024 – July 2025

Experience Overview

During my Erasmus+ academic exchange, I spent an enriching academic year at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (FFZG), University of Zagreb, as an MA student in Slavic Studies. This experience offered me not only valuable academic knowledge but also a deep intercultural and social immersion in Croatian academic and everyday life.

Apart from attending a variety of inspiring lectures and seminars within the Departments of Slavic Studies and Jewish Studies, I also actively participated in international activities at the faculty.

In cooperation with Tamara and Ivana from the Office for International Cooperation, I assisted in organizing and conducting several events for incoming exchange students and institutional partners. This included interpreting and facilitating meetings in English, Croatian, and Ukrainian language for the visiting delegation from the State Pedagogical University in Poltava, Ukraine, which took place on 2 June 2025.

Furthermore, I was involved in the preparation and realization of the Welcome Day for incoming exchange students, which also marked the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Faculty, held on 21 February 2025. Being a part of this symbolic academic milestone was a great honor and unforgettable experience.

Thanks to the supportive academic community and the dynamic international atmosphere at FFZG, my time in Zagreb was both academically fulfilling and personally transformative. I'm sincerely grateful for the opportunity to be part of this vibrant university environment.

Yours sincerely,

Denys Sadovsky

WELCOME

WE'RE GLAD YOU'RE HERE